

An Unusual Coalition Has Come Together to Protect The Owyhee Canyonlands

Owyhee Canyon background photo courtesy of Steve Bly

The Owyhee Initiative: Bringing People And Places Together

A diverse group of sportsmen, ranchers and conservation groups like the Sierra Club have put aside their differences and are closing in on a deal to protect the Owyhee Canyonlands. Idaho's Senator Mike Crapo is working to help make this taskforce's plan a reality and they are off to a great start. We want to make this plan even better, but need your help to do that. Join us at a town meeting and help us protect what may be the largest undeveloped, unprotected wildlands of the lower 48 states – the Owyhee Canyonlands.

A Town Hall Meeting to Protect the Owyhees

April 20, 7:00 PM

Corner of 9th and State Streets in Boise.

Call 384-1023 for more information.

Visit www.owyheecanyonlands.org

Explore, enjoy and protect the planet

A message from the Idaho Chapter of the Sierra Club and the Owyhee Canyonlands Coalition.

The Owyhee Canyonlands Coalition includes Sierra Club, The Wilderness Society, Idaho Conservation League, The Nature Conservancy and Idaho Rivers United