

R.J. Secor Memorial Hike

Sunday April 15th

Join us on a hike to Henniger Flats in Pasadena as a celebration of our friend R. J. Secor's life. This moderate local climb from the mouth of Eaton Canyon up the Mt. Wilson Toll Road was R. J.'s favorite local conditioning hike.

Henniger Flats has picnic tables, restrooms, and a nature center. We plan to have our celebration when we get to the Flats, so bring your R.J. stories, memories, and food and drink to share.

Expect a day's total of about 5.35 miles round trip with 1,300' of gain. We'll leave from the Pinecrest trailhead at 8:00 am. Parking is limited, so plan to carpool if you can. Some may want to park at the Eaton Canyon Nature

Center and carpool from there. Kids and dogs are welcome.

From the 210 Freeway in Pasadena, exit on Lake Avenue. Turn north and continue to Altadena Drive. Make a right, continue about ten blocks, and look closely to your left. Turn left on Pinecrest Drive and wind a few blocks through a residential area to the trailhead. You can also come up Altadena Drive from the 210 Freeway past the Eaton Canyon Nature Center and take a right on Crescent Drive and then another right on Pinecrest Drive. The trailhead is found in 2200 block of Pinecrest. You'll spot a locked gate where the trail starts.

Email contact info to Ldrs: Dan Richter (dan@danrichter.com), Asher Waxman

Note, this is a private hike, not a Sierra Club sponsored outing.