Summer 2024 Teen Day Camp

Chumash Heritage & Marine Science

BGC South SLO is excited to partner with Northern Chumash Tribe Council for this camp. We want to excite young people about both Chumash culture and marine science during this week long camp. The week will be packed with fun, safe and engaging activities and field trips that focus on the original indigenous people of the central coast. Just as the Chumash have been the stewards and caretakers of our coastal and ocean environment, our goal is to spark interest in how young people aspire to become marine scientists and assume a similar role in protecting our oceans and marine environment.
